WHEN THE SPOTLIGHT IS WAITING, EVERY TRAVEL DETAIL MATTERS

For touring artists and performing arts organisations, travel isn't just about getting from one venue to the next. It's an essential part of creative preparation, wellbeing, and performance quality. Every hour of rest preserved, every routine protected, and every logistical challenge avoided directly shapes what happens when the curtain rises.

With over 30 years of experience supporting orchestras, theatre companies, festivals, dance ensembles, touring artists and crews, Stage and Screen understands the unique rhythm of the performing arts.

We know the difference between simply travelling and travelling to perform.
And we're trusted to deliver when the lights are about to go up.
